An Evening Echo.
True courage is not incompatible with nervousness, and heroism does not mean the absence of fear, but the conquest of it.—VAN DYKE.

Once Before.

The Collinsville, Ala., Courier gets off the following:

A man from Collinsville spent several days of last week around the mines in Jefferson county and said the mines were working one to two days a week. A free-trader asked him, "Well, didn't you ever see it that way before?" Oh, yes," he replied, "I saw it that way under Cleveland's administration, about twenty years ago."

Saved by the War.

The war has been a double life. The Wilson administration has not only operated exactly as a protective tariff would have operated in the matter of imports, by holding them down to reasonable and non-competitive proportions, but it has greatly enlarged our balance of trade against Europe, by reason of the enlarged demand from Europe for our eatable things, which we happened to have in abundance, and for munitions of war, says the Hartford Courant. Thus by a wholly fortuitous combination of circumstances, with which the Wilson administration had no more to do than with the tides of the Bay of Biscay, it has secured all the advantages here at home of a protective tariff, except the public revenue, which it lost by making as nearly a free trade tariff as it could, and all the advantages of increased sales in foreign markets, in spite of its systematic effort to secure an increased sale of foreign goods in our market.

To speak about "the grave disturbances caused by the gigantic European war," as Mr. McAdoo does, as if it had been an obstacle to such prosperity as we now have, when obviously it has been the main cause of keeping American producers out of the pit which the Wilson administration carefully and obstinately dug for them, is pure frivolity; while for Mr. Redfield to speak of "those who have brought the country through the most terrible commercial shock in its history, and landed it safe and strong upon the American shores of prosperity and influence," is no more than an ostrich-like effort to claim for the Wilson administration some occult and magnetic power over operative forces and events with which this administration has had no more to do than Julius Caesar. To say such things now is Democratic business, and all the Washington oracles are hard at work straight faces, but it is a foolish effort. Too many people know for themselves just how these curious contradictions of the Democratic purpose have worked themselves out to make this new Washington myth take.

Idle Talk.

Former Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan must think the American people have short memories when he stands up before an audience in Philadelphia and coolly informs them that "every pledge and promise of the Democratic party has been kept."

A statement so violently in opposition to the truth should not be allowed to pass unchallenged, declares an exchange. Perhaps Mr. Bryan's habit of discussing general platitudes before chautauque audiences has given him a feeling of being able to "get away" with any statement he may make, but when he is dealing with matters that form the political history of the United States during the past two years, he will have to be more exact. A few facts still fresh in the public mind will show how far Mr. Bryan was from telling the truth when he stated that, "every pledge and promise of the Democratic party has been kept."

For instance, the Democratic party and the Democratic administration were pledged by their national platform to the principle of free tolls for American vessels through the Panama canal. That pledge was violated in order to permit the administration to play a dismal and destructive game in Mexico.

Mr. Bryan's Baltimore platform also pledged the Democratic Congress to the enactment of legislation for bidding more than one term for a president. It was a foolish pledge, but it was made, nevertheless. The Wilson-Bryan administration has cast it into the scrap heap of innumerable desuetude.

The Democratic national platform also pledged the administration to that "simplicity and economy which befits a Democratic government," and denounced the "profligate waste" of money "wringing from the people" and appropriated by Republican Congresses. And what has happened? More and higher taxes to meet the $177,000,000 appropriated in excess of the appropriations of the last Republican Congress.

Oh, yes, the Wilson-Bryan administration has kept "every pledge and promise of the party."

What Brought $100,000,000 Deficit. The last months of the current fiscal year, the United States treasury deficit has passed $100,000,000. Extravagance beyond precedent and a reckless disregard of world conditions by our federal administration have brought this country to the humiliating position of a pauper. The ordinary corporation which spent $11 when it had only $10 to spend would invite the charge of being grossly mismanaged. The Underwood tariff bill largely controls our customs receipts and they had fallen $73,000,000 up to the end of last week. And that is the true reason for the treasury deficit. A Congress which enacted drastic laws and presumed to sit in judgment upon the integrity and management of every enterprise in the land was itself more incompetent and extravagant than a vast majority of all whose capacity it called in question. A deficit of $100,000,000 in time of peace is an indictment which the Democratic party cannot escape. It will return to plague it next year.

The last Congress scattered money like the traditional drunken sailor. It failed to do what every business in the land was forced to do, which was to economize. And that is the true reason for the treasury deficit. A Congress which enacted drastic laws and presumed to sit in judgment upon the integrity and management of every enterprise in the land was itself more incompetent and extravagant than a vast majority of all whose capacity it called in question. A deficit of $100,000,000 in time of peace is an indictment which the Democratic party cannot escape. It will return to plague it next year.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE

COARSE WORK.

Gealby, being almost a perfect reader, had no difficulty at all in reading the sign outside the restaurant.

"Four course dinner, fifteen cents," Gealby read fluently.

"Cheap at half the price!" he exclaimed wondrously, and, being very hungry despite the fact that he had eaten a hearty breakfast only the preceding day, he entered and ordered a four course dinner.

"Yes, sir," said the waiter, and, in less than five minutes, he brought a napkin and placed it in front of Gealby.

"Hurry up, I'm hungry!" ordered Gealby.

"Yes, sir," said the waiter, and ten minutes later he brought him a nice full glass of water.

Five minutes after that he appeared again with a plate of noodle soup in which the noodles, to the extent of being three in number, were plural.

Three minutes and a half after that he brought a bowl of toothpicks.

"Well, where's the rest of the courses?" asked Gealby.

"That's all, sir," said the waiter. "Napkin, glass, water, soup and toothpicks, four courses, explained the waiter, who, being boxing champion of the waiter union, defended himself so well that both he and Gealby spent the next ten days side by side in the General Bruise hospital.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES ALL HER LIFE

But Miss Ayres Got a 'Beautiful Complexion' at a Cost of Only $2.00

Nov. 23, 1914. "All my life my face was covered completely with a mass of pimples, blackheads and blotches. I spent a lot of money on numerous remedies and treatments without success and no relief at all. I tried so many things that I was afraid my case could not be cured. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap seemed to do me good right from the first. I used two jars of Resinol Ointment and some Resinol Soap, the total cost being only $2.00, and this completely cured my case. My skin is without a blemish and I am the possessor of a beautiful complexion."

(Signed) Mabel Ayres, Stone Mountain, Va.

Every druggist sells Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and physicians have prescribed them for twenty years in the treatment of eczema and other tormenting skin troubles.

A PUBLIC KITCHEN.

The public kitchen opened in New York a few weeks ago demonstrated its usefulness, as well as its capacity for self-support during the first month of operation, in which it supplied over 1,600 portions of food, the average price being four cents per portion, which is equivalent to a daily average income of $24.30. Selections from a specimen menu include orders of corn beef, cabbage and potatoes, of sausage with vegetables for seven cents; baked beans, stewed fruit, or soup, for three cents; cereals, rolls or sweet bun, gingerbread, pudding

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, EASY, SAFE

New Treatment—Not a Dye. Harmless—Turns Gray Hair Dark and Lustrous.

If your hair is gray, streaked with gray, prematurely gray, faded or falling, simply apply Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer to hair and scalp, a few times, rubbing it in gently with the finger tips. Nothing else required. It is wonderful, as this simple treatment makes your gray hair dark, soft, fluffy, silky, thick, changing your gray hair to that dark, fascinating luster and abundance which makes the hair so attractive. Q-Ban is not sticky or messy, harmless, and is a delightful hair dressing. Also stops dandruff, falling hair, or itching scalp. Guaranteed to darken gray hair or no charge. Try it. Q-Ban is not a dye but acts on roots, making hair healthy so gray hair is darkened so evenly no one can tell you applied Q-Ban. Big 7-oz. bottle only 50 cents at Wall-Haymaker drug store, 316 Main street, Clarksburg, W. Va. Out of town folks supplied by parcel post. Call or write asking for Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer.—Advertisement.

and coffee or cocoa, two cents.

The kitchen was opened by the Association for Improving the Conditions of the Poor, through the benevolence of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. James A. Burden, Jr. It was established for the purpose of supplying hot cooked food which could be taken home for family use. The institution is known as the People's Kitchen, and is located on West Thirty-seventh street, in the heart of the longshoremen's district. The fact that it at once became self-supporting indicates the possibilities of extending the movement by opening similar kitchens in other localities.
